

fold in half

Ceremonial Club

This snake shaped artifact is a Polynesian ceremonial club, and was brought back as a souvenir. It is constructed of wood, with shark's teeth attached to the edges by tightly wound string.